Nadeau family adds a son to the family tree

Ryder Wayne Nadeau is the newest addition to the Travis and Stacey Nadeau family. The future electrical apprentice was born three days before the storm, August 6, 2009, at 5 pounds, 14 ounces. Ryder managed to go through over 100 diapers in the first two weeks. And the little man doesn't miss a meal, gaining over three pounds in four weeks. You can set your watch to his feedings, three hours is the longest this kid will go!

90th birthday celebration

by D.K. Christi

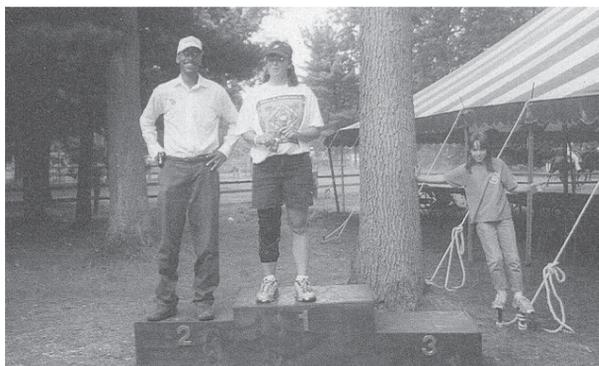

Happy birthday to Lueneda Johnson who celebrates her 90th birthday in September. She moved to Western Michigan from the south when she was 21 to help her brother in his business. Help was hard to get because it was war time. Men in the factories went into the service. Their place was filled by women. Lueneda remained in Michigan, returning home occasionally for short visits.

She worked as a sales person in an exclusive ladies' clothing store on Western Avenue and raised two children, Diane K. Christianson (author D.K. Christi) and Craig L. Johnson (L3 Communications Senior Meteorologist) who attended Fruitport schools in their youth.

Lueneda enjoys three grandchildren, Robert Raisig, Jr., a computer network specialist; C.J. Johnson, a biostatistician at Michigan State University; and Tanya M. Johnson, CEO of Thoughts in Motion Video Productions. Both C.J. and Tanya are Fruitport High School graduates.

Lueneda now spends her winters at her daughter's home in Florida and her summers at her own home near her son and his family in Fruitport. •

Annel Olthof, leader of the Green Acres 4-H Livestock Group, once again claims the top step, having won the sack race against Frank Cox two years in a row.

The big race

Last year's sack race winner at the Muskegon County Youth Fair was 4-H leader Annel Olthof. MSU Extension Official Frank Cox came in second. This year's race was set for 3:30 p.m.

Frank was a no-show, so Annel raced against two other people and came in second place.

Back at the tent, word was out that Frank was ready! Annel headed back to the race track, although she had just competed in another race.

Both Annel and Frank are in their sacks. The starter, Scott Erdman, gives the rules. And they are off! Thirty seconds later, Annel wins her second race against Frank! The challenge is on for next year. •
